TOPIC: SAFETY FROM CONCEPTUAL STAGE IN CONSTRUCTION – AN OVERVIEW

Atanu Chatterjee
Corporate Head,
Safety, Health and Environment,
M/s Texmaco Rail and Engineering Limited

Atanu Chatterjee is presently the Corporate Head, Safety, Health, and Environment at Texmaco Rail and Engineering Limited. He formerly served as GM, OHS at Jindal Steel and Power Limited (3.6 MT) for about three and a half years (May '18 to Oct. '21). He has also worked with Tata Steel, Jamshedpur for about 22 years and Tata Steel Processing & Distribution Limited (TSPDL), a group company of Tata Steel, for 7 years to lead the corporate safety function in PAN India. From 2007 to 2011, he headed the Safety Department at KPO (Tata Steel's largest project) to drive safety during the pre-construction and design stages. His career as a safety professional started in 2004 when DuPont (Safety Consultant) was engaged with Tata Steel. Prior to moving into the safety profession, he was in-charge of projects and construction activities in Tata Steel's Engineering Division for about 16 years. He is a strategist with competency in devising and implementing safety management systems for maintaining sound safety processes in the organization. He is a professional with people management skills and the capability to manage change with ease. He was a part-time faculty at the Industrial Safety Institute in Jamshedpur (Jharkhand Govt. affiliated) for about 5 years (2010–2014) as a subject matter expert in construction safety.
