Founded in 2006, the Rajiv Gandhi School of Intellectual Property Law (RGSOIPL) is a unique institution within the IIT system, concentrating on the intersection of technology and law. Offering specialized LL.B., LL.M., and Ph.D. programs, RGSOIPL's multidisciplinary faculty emphasizes practical skills through workshops and clinical courses. As the sole law school in the IIT system, it strives to produce lawyers with interdisciplinary strengths, fostering holistic growth and research-oriented excellence.

OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP

This workshop focuses on the dynamic and research-driven pharmaceutical industry, deeply influenced by a complex network of laws and regulations aimed at fostering innovation, overseeing drug manufacturing, and safeguarding consumer interests. It will particularly address two key areas: the legal framework governing digital technologies in the healthcare sector, and the regulations related to clinical trials and telemedicine. Bringing together legal and regulatory perspectives, the workshop will explore views from both regulators and industry professionals. It serves as a platform to examine challenges in clinical trial authorization and the marketing of vaccines and drugs. Designed to be participatory, the event encourages dialogue among researchers, healthcare professionals, pharmaceutical industry members, students, and legal experts.
